How to Use the PAUSE Button
(For Analog PBX Line/Long Distance Service Users)

We recommend you press (REDIAL/PAUSE)if a pause is required for dialling with a PBX or to access a long distance service.

Ex: Line access number [9] (PBX)

[9] ➡ (REDIAL/PAUSE) ➡ [Phone number]

• Pressing (REDIAL/PAUSE) once creates a 3.5 second pause.
This prevents misdialling when you redial or dial a stored number.
• Pressing (REDIAL/PAUSE) more than once increases the length of the pause between numbers.

RECALL Button

Pressing (RECALL) allows you to use special features of your host PBX such as transferring an extension call or accessing special telephone service (optional) such as call waiting.

➡ Special Features

Selecting the Recall Time

The recall time depends on your exchange or host PBX.
You can select from recall times "100, 250, 400 or 600 msec (milliseconds)" by programming. The factory preset is "100 msec".
When programming, use the handset near the base unit.

The TALK and SP-PHONE indicator lights must be off before programming.

1 Press (PROGRAM).

   • The TALK indicator flashes.

2 Enter the recall time ((1) to (4)).

(RECALL)
*What the confirmation tone means

1 beep: The new number is stored.
3 beeps: The number is not correct. Move closer to the base unit or place the handset on the base unit. Then try again from the beginning.

• Users in Australia can access Telstra's "EASY CALL" service by having the recall time set at 100 msec (this is the factory default setting), and then follow Telstra's "EASY CALL" instructions to operate this service.
• If you are connected via a PBX, a higher recall time may need to be selected to use PBX functions (transfer a call, etc). Consult with your PBX supplier for the correct setting.

For Call Waiting Service Users in New Zealand

Adjust the recall time to 600 msec for use with Telecom's Call Waiting Service. Press (RECALL) if you hear a call-waiting tone while talking.
• The first call is put on hold and you can answer the second call.
• To return to the first caller, press (RECALL) again.

If a power failure occurs, the mode will return to the factory preset.
Reprogram if necessary.
